In exceptional cases, the charges for haltage may be further reduced or remitted by the Regional Manager at his discretion for reasons to be recorded in writing.

Explanation.—The option of reducing or remitting empty haulage or haltage, which is to be sparingly used is being given to Regional Managers to cover such cases, where there is keen competition and the Manager or the Booking Clerk feels that the hirer might take some other vehicles in case some concession is not shown to him or under other special circumstances, such as vehicles required by the officials or gentlemen, with whom the Transport Department has generally to deal.
